RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Personal research profile I have conducted theoretical/empirical research (at both European and national level) in the following areas:

- youth cultures and inter-generational comparisons
- biographical constructions
- gender differences
- sociological study of time
- changes in cultural models
- qualitative research methods

I have taken part in a number of national and international conferences and seminars presenting papers on gender issues, the condition of youth, the experience of time (with particular attention to gender differences) and cultural changes, as well as organizing several international and national conferences and seminars. I have published widely on cultural changes, young women's cultures, youth and its cultural practices (with specific attention to the changing life course perspective) and temporal orientations.
