BUSINESS AND CONSUMER CONTRACTS IN A GLOBAL PERSPECTIVE

LECTURER: CERINI DIANA VALENTINA

CONTENTS

After an introduction to the essential aspects and methodology of comparative law, the European law models will be examined, with specific reference to harmonization, unification and optional law models. A particular focus will be dedicated to business-to-consumer directives and their implementation in the Member States.

The course will also examine business and consumer contract law and models outside the Western Legal Tradition. In particular, contract law and models in BRICS countries will be considered.

The second part of the course will address specific issues relating to the formation of the contract and its effects, namely unfair commercial practices and misleading advertising in business-to-business contracts, unfair terms, sale of goods liability for defective goods.

Finally, specific contracts will be examined, with particular reference to the financial sectors, credit contracts and insurance contracts.

COMPARATIVE CIVIL AND COMMERCIAL PROCEDURE

LECTURER: VILLA ALBERTO

CONTENTS

The course aims to give an overview of civil proceedings in a comparative dimension. The course is open to foreigner students as well as to Italian students who want to give an international characterization to their academic curriculum.

The aim of civil justice, i.e. to guarantee an effective protection of rights within a reasonable time (and, of course, at reasonable costs), cannot be pursued through the same model of procedure. Focus of the course is to point out the essential features of different models of procedure adopted in Europe as well as in the United States.

COMPARATIVE CRIMINAL PROCEDURE AND CORPORATE LIABILITY

LECTURER: MAZZA OLIVIERO

CONTENTS

In many countries, corporations can be criminally tried and convicted for crimes committed in their interest by individual directors, managers, and even low-level employees.

This course will be dedicated to a comparative study of different models of assessing responsibility for crimes committed to benefit corporate interests. Mainly, the focus will be on Italian and Anglo-American systems of corporate criminal liability, but also on laws of some European countries, to highlight both common features and differences between the various jurisdictions.

INTERNATIONAL PEACEKEEPING AND UNITED NATIONS LAW

LECTURER: ARCARI MAURIZIO

CONTENTS

The course outlines the basic legal features of the UN system of collective security and specifically deals with one of the main tools elaborated by the UN Organization for the maintenance of international peace and security, namely peacekeeping operations. Originally conceived in the Cold War as neutral and consensual-based instruments alternative to coercive measures involving the use of force, peacekeeping operations have substantially evolved through the years, in order to respond to very enlarged and diversified tasks, such as the protection of civilian populations or state-building functions in countries ravaged by internal armed conflicts. The course aims at exploring the evolution of peacekeeping operations in both its legal and operational aspects.
