

Emilio Padoa-Schioppa

Curriculum Vitae (April 2018 – synthetic CV, English)

Born: January 2, 1971

2002: PhD in Environmental Sciences, University of Milano (Italy).

1996: Master Degree, in Natural Sciences – Conservation Biology, University of Milano.

Position

Assistant professor of Ecology from 01/02/2005 to 30/09/2016 (tenure in 2008; habilitation as associate professor in 2014). From 01/10/2016 Associate professor of Ecology, and 28/11/2027 national habilitation as full professorship.

Courses:

- Landscape ecology
- Fundamental of biology and didactic

Doctoral school of University Milano-Bicocca, vice coordinator of the Doctoral course Chemical, Geological and Environmental Sciences and responsible of the curriculum of Environmental Sciences

Research lines

- Monitoring of habitat and landscapes in Europe;
- Evaluation, assessment and analysis of ecosystem services in urban parks and protected areas;
- Biodiversity conservation;
- didactics of biology and environmental education.

My research contributed to the evaluation of the quality of research (national assessment) with following scores: 3 points (maximum score 3 points) for the period 2004-2010 and 2 points (maximum score 2 points) for the period 2011-2014.

I published 120 publications:

- 43 papers indexed in ISI or Scopus;
- 16 papers with peer review policy non indexed in ISI;
- 4 books (1 of them as author and 3 of them as editor);
- 29 book chapters (6 in English and 23 in Italian);
- 5 reports for scientific institutions;
- 23 papers for popular science or extended abstracts with peer review policy.

I served in different scientific societies (IALE, IALE-Europe, SIEP-IALE, Conservation Biology, Society Human Ecology, Societas Herpetologica Italica, Italian Society of Ecology).

Charged as chairman for the 10th World congress of IALE (Milano, July 2019). Editor of Acta Herpetologica