

Serena VICARI HADDOCK graduated in Political Science at the University of Milano (Italy) in 1977, received a Master's degree in Sociology, University of California, Santa Barbara, (U.S.A.) in 1986 and a Ph.D. in Sociology, Ministero della Pubblica Istruzione, Roma, in 1988. She has been Teaching Assistant and Lecturer at the University of California, Santa Barbara (U.S.A.). Currently she is Senior Associate Professor in the Department of Sociology of the University of Milano-Bicocca (Italy) where she served as the Co-ordinator of the Ph.D. Programme in Urban Studies from 2011 to 2016. At present she is engaged as Section Editor of the Wiley-Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies and as Editor (together with A. Orum and J. Ruiz-Tagle) of the companion volume to the Encyclopedia (both to be published early 2019). Her primary research interests are urban development and regeneration policies in Italian cities and in comparative perspectives; her specific focus is on bottom-up and inclusive decision-making processes and policies and social innovation.

Most recent publications in English:

(with Semprebon M.) "Innovative housing practices involving immigrants: the case of self-building in Italy", Journal of Housing and the Built Environment, vol.30 (3), 2015.

(with Garcia M.) "Special issue: housing and community needs and social innovation responses in times of crisis", Journal of Housing and the Built Environment, vol.30 (3), 2015. DOI: 10.1007/s10901-015-9466-1

(with Vanhellemont, L.) "MINUTIAE: meeting minutes as actors in participatory planning processes." In Beauregard R. and Lieto L. (2015) Planning in a Material World, Routledge.

(with Colleoni, E. and d'Ovidio, M.) "The making of the human city", in Veca S. (ed.) The many faces of sustainability, Milano: Fondazione Giangiacomo Feltrinelli, 2015.

(with Brokking, P., Garcia M., Vaiou D.) "Housing and neighbourhood: basic needs, governance and social innovation" in Martinelli, F., Anttonen, A. and Mätzke, M. (eds) (2018), Social Services Disrupted. Changes, Challenges and Policy Implications for Europe in Times of Austerity, Cheltenham: Edward Elgar Publishing Ltd, ISBN 978 1 78643 210 0.